

Lemont High School

Students of the Month

October 2025

Nia Salmon
Freshman
Family & Consumer Sciences

Nia Salmon was cited as the Freshman Student of the Month by the Family & Consumer Sciences Department. Nia lists English I Honors and French I as her favorite classes thus far in her high school career. She already has involved herself in a number of extra-curricular activities, as she is a member of both the Dance Team and Golden Cheer & Dance, and also part of the World Languages Club and Baking Club. Nia's teachers note she goes above and beyond both in the classroom and in extra-curricular activities. Her infectious energy inspires those around her. Nia is willing to lend a hand to her peers, and her hard work, positive attitude, and commitment make her a standout student. She hopes to pursue a career in health care in the future. Nia works as an assistant teacher at the Allegro Music and Dance Academy.

Lyla Smith
Sophomore
World Languages

The World Languages Department tabbed Lyla Smith as the Sophomore Student of the Month. Lyla is a high honor roll performer whose favorite classes include Spanish II Honors and AP Psychology. She also is interested in health sciences and music. Described as a joy to have in class, she volunteers, works well with others, and is a classroom leader whose talent and drive are inspiring. Lyla is a member of the Marching Band, and also is involved in the World Languages Club and the school's girls' soccer program. She has earned best jazz soloist honors and is a second degree black belt in taekwondo. Lyla would like to pursue a career in pediatric nursing. In her free time, she enjoys playing guitar, singing, and exploring different languages and cultures through music.

SairaMae Callo
Junior
Art

SairaMae Callo was selected as the Junior Student of the Month by the Art Department. A high honor roll student, SairaMae lists AP U.S. History, Humanities, Anatomy & Physiology Honors, and Digital Photography among her favorite courses. She already has earned induction to the National English Honor Society and Science National Honor Society, and is a member of both the Health Occupations Student Association and Leo Club. An accomplished photographer who was featured in Gallery 306's fall exhibition, SairaMae understands her assignments and challenges herself to create captivating images using the techniques and compositions learned in class. She hopes to move to San Francisco and become a forensic psychologist. In her spare time, she likes reading, photography, and spending time with family and friends.

Amelia Brzezniak
Senior
Physical Education

The Physical Education Department named Amelia Brzezniak as the Senior Student of the Month. Amelia is a high honor roll student whose favorite classes are Senior P.E. Leadership and Accounting I. She is described as an exceptional P.E. leader who demonstrates outstanding leadership, empathy, and dedication to the students she works with in the Adaptive P.E. class. She leads with patience and enthusiasm, creating an inclusive and supportive environment. A four-year member of the girls' volleyball program and a veteran club volleyball player, Amelia also has earned induction to the National Honor Society and Mu Alpha Theta. She plans to study finance or accounting in college, and has designs on becoming a certified public accountant. Amelia loves hanging out with friends, and over the summer, served as an intern at a financial management company.
