Brief Camp Opportunity Descriptions:

Quest for Camelot

Grades K-1 and Grades 2-4 (two weeks)

Teacher: Sherry Willis

Campers will explore the world of castles, knights and dragons. The adventure will include castle building, dissection, medieval art and much more.

Music Moves Me, Grades 3-6

Teacher: Lee Anne Grace

Campers will experience and celebrate the joy of making music through singing, moving and playing instruments, using Orff based experiences. Participants will also create their own music compositions.

Frantic Frogs and Icky Experiments, Grades 2-4

Teachers: Sally Amos and Mitzi Nasce

Campers will enjoy a week of "froggy" riddles, research and games while learning about frog anatomy in preparation for dissection. They will explore the world of scientific discovery in this fun filled camp.

Surf City, Grades 4-6

Teachers: Marrion Winders and Kim Wyatt

A multi-media camp offering action packed, information rich, skill building activities and applications to help campers enhance learning experiences with technology and the Internet.

Let the Games Begin, Grades K-2

Teacher: Nancy Barrett

Campers will "journey" to China and take part in multiple-disciplinary activities that focus on this country's contributions to the world as well as their hosting of the 2008 Summer Olympics. Campers will also participate in their own "Olympic" games.

Art is More Than Drawing, Grades 1-4

Jamie Baker and Rose Ann Parker

Campers will produce a wide range of original artwork in multiple types of media. Projects will include wire masks, frescos, acrylic mosaics and watercolor wearables.

Creative Construction, Grades 4-6

Judy Duneheew

This camp will give campers a chance to mix logic and creativity in most unusual mathematical art and architectural constructions. Student will feel successful as they learn about structures, measurement, planning and design while working in teams to create toothpick bridges.

Fairy Tales, Grades K-2

Sally Amos

Campers will take a trip to the enchanted land of Fairy Tales. They will retell and act out familiar stories, learn silly fairy tales and even create their own stories. If you love creative play and dress-up, this camp is for you!
