Purchasing Department wins TASBO award for fiscal responsibility

The Denton ISD Purchasing Department has earned its first-ever Texas Association of School Business Officials (TASBO) Award of Merit for Purchasing and Operations, honoring its commitment to professional standards in acquiring goods and services.

“This district has a long history of setting the standard for sound business practices as is evident by this honor and our FIRST rating,” said Dr. Scott Niven, Chief Financial Officer. “We will strive for excellence in all areas of business operations including the service to our internal and external customers moving forward.”

To determine award recipients, TASBO reviewed various procedures and practices ranging from organization, policies, contract operations, staff training and certification to technology use, communication and management of cooperative programs.

The Award of Merit for Purchasing Operations recognizes the achievements of educational organizations in implementing best practices in the area of purchasing. The honorees demonstrate professional purchasing operations and share their best practices in policies and procedures with colleagues throughout the state.

The award was presented at the TASBO Annual Conference in San Antonio in March.
