News from Mr. Regal

Hello Evergreen Friends and Family,

As spring approaches, many of our classrooms are beginning to take some field trips and have class activities that may require parent involvement. If you are planning on volunteering to chaperone a field trip or help out in the school, please make sure that you have filled out the Volunteer form online which includes a background check; (www.helpcounterweb.com/welcome/?en=23592422 or go to our website, www.threerivers.k12.or.us and choose the District Tab from the top and click on the link titled Volunteer Information). If you do not have access to a computer, please contact Jenny at Evergreen (541-592-3136) and we will assist you. After your application has been processed you will receive an email about your volunteer status. Please take into consideration, that this application process may take at least 2 weeks to be completed, so plan accordingly.

A lot of times parents do not know how to support their student in education, but parents can get involved by creating opportunities to teach, to be models, and to guide their children at home. Families whose children are doing well in school display some key characteristics. The top 2 things parents can do at home to support their child academically are:

1. Establish a daily family routine

Examples: Providing time and a quiet place to study, assigning responsibility for chores, being firm about bedtime, and eating dinner together

2. Monitor out-of-school activities

Examples: Set limits on TV watching, checking in with kids when parents are not home, arranging after-school activities and supervised care.

These are just a couple of things parents can do at home to get involved with their child's education.

Please keep supporting your student(s) in doing their best on a daily basis at school.

Thanks for all your support in and out of school.....

IMMUNIZATIONS

The immunization exclusion date for non compliant students is Wednesday, February 15th! You must provide documentation of the updated shot record or exemption module completion form prior to this date. If you do not, your student will be excluded from school until one of those forms are obtained.
