

May

Good afternoon everyone!

Unfortunately I do not have anything new to report from student forum, since we haven't had a May meeting.

However, I still have a couple different things I wanted to discuss. I recently had the opportunity to engage with Staci Almaras regarding a youth council initiative that aims to bring together students from ALC, Denfeld, and East. I anticipate having further details on this collaboration in June or September.

Additionally, I connected with the Real Talk group at Ordean. It was inspiring to witness their development of leadership skills and hear more about the tangible impact that they had on the school lunch changes. Seeing students take pride in their contributions to the school community was truly rewarding.

Our recent tailgate event featured activities such as a hot dog eating contest, bean bag toss, and spike ball. These events serve as valuable opportunities for student engagement, fostering a sense of community and providing a relaxed atmosphere before athletic competitions. While the warm weather impacted attendance, we are optimistic about increased participation next year.

The orchestra concert went very well and each of the Seniors had the opportunity to perform a solo!

Our Spring athletic teams, including track, boys tennis, baseball, softball, and boys and girls lacrosse, are advancing to playoffs, and I look forward to sharing updates on their progress.

Tomorrow marks the final PAWs day of the academic year, featuring yearbook distribution, cap and gown distribution, an ice cream social, and time for homework completion.

Students are still trying to balance academic responsibilities with extracurricular involvement. To address challenges with making up for missed assessments, we are trying to think of potential schedule adjustments for PAWs days to better support student needs in the upcoming academic year.

As the school year concludes, there is heightened stress associated with final grades, assignments, and engaging in fun activities. However, I am confident that we will all finish these last couple of weeks strong!!!

As always, thank you for this opportunity and your time!
