

This picture reminds me of hope because we went camping for a month and we went hunting fishing and picnicking and there were other camps by me and gave me hope.