

We would, once again, like to express our feelings in regards to the importance of in-school learning. While we understand the struggles and deep concerns for the safety of everyone, we have all pulled together for our children and the school community. It has been challenging and much more work than we ever thought. The day to day routine looks much more different today than ever before. However, it has been proven that in-person learning is benefitting the students' social, emotional and physical well-being, which makes it worth the fight. Our staff has come to work everyday, pushing up their sleeves and working hard to ensure that our children are feeling safe and secure while learning in the best way possible. Our goal is and always has been to provide the best education for our children. Being in person gives us a better opportunity to do that. While we understand the seriousness of this virus and the potential impact it holds, we hope that we will be able to keep our students learning in this safe environment that has been created by so many hands.

Andrew Lavaway

Bill E. Colson

Lauren Kenefick

Shari Toldy

Cedric Jeffries

Jim Brennan

Kathryn Hammer

David Chvey

Maria Sposo

Benjamin Bernier

Alyanne Sugarman

Jim Bush

Lala Jim

Judith

Ellen Tolliver

We would, once again, like to express our feelings in regards to the importance of in-school learning. While we understand the struggles and deep concerns for the safety of everyone, we have all pulled together for our children and the school community. It has been challenging and much more work than we ever thought. The day to day routine looks much more different today than ever before. However, it has been proven that in-person learning is benefitting the students' social, emotional and physical well-being, which makes it worth the fight. Our staff has come to work everyday, pushing up their sleeves and working hard to ensure that our children are feeling safe and secure while learning in the best way possible. Our goal is and always has been to provide the best education for our children. Being in person gives us a better opportunity to do that. While we understand the seriousness of this virus and the potential impact it holds, we hope that we will be able to keep our students learning in this safe environment that has been created by so many hands.

Wendy Fry

Katarzyna Kosow

Ron Quaker

Elisa Brown

Lauren Kenefick
AK

Jo Calabrese

S L Wynnem-Andel

Kelly Borer

Aara DiCapua

Sylvio Antonello

Russ

Vicky Buford

Jim Rose

Z