

To Whom it May Concern,

We are thrilled to announce a unique opportunity for districts and schools to join the Leader in Me community.

For three decades, FranklinCovey Education has been one of the most trusted providers of educational leadership programs and transformational processes. Our flagship offering, Leader in Me, is an evidence-based PK-12 model designed to build resilience and leadership in students, create high-trust culture, and accelerate academic achievement.

In support of this work, FranklinCovey Education has received a grant from a national foundation to increase the number of schools implementing Leader in Me. As stewards of this grant, FranklinCovey will award up to $50 per student to schools that are ready to begin implementation of Leader in Me while grant funds are available.

To be considered for this opportunity, participating schools must:

- Engage in the full three-year implementation process,
- Measure impact annually through our Measurable Results Assessment, and
- Secure funds from local public and/or private sources to cover additional costs of the full implementation.

Every student and educator has genius and the potential to lead. Together, we look forward to nurturing leadership and trust and unleashing the potential of students and educators in your community.

For more information about this grant opportunity, please contact the FranklinCovey Client Partner in your area.

Sincerely,
