

Dr. Mohamed Abdelrahman brings nearly 30 years of experience in higher education as a faculty member, researcher, and senior academic leader. Prior to joining UHCL, he served as Provost and Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs at Texas A&M University-San Antonio, where he oversaw the university's academic colleges, library, research and health sciences, institutional research, institutional effectiveness, and student success and retention initiatives.

His leadership experience also includes serving as Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs at Colorado State University Pueblo, Vice President for Academic Affairs at Arkansas Tech University, and Associate Vice President for Research and Dean of Graduate Studies at Texas A&M University–Kingsville.

Throughout his career, Dr. Abdelrahman has championed initiatives that improve student outcomes, expand academic opportunities, and strengthen partnerships with K-12 schools, community colleges, industry, and regional organizations. He has helped secure more than $25 million in federal, state, and private funding to support academic programs and student success initiatives while leading the development of innovative academic structures and interdisciplinary programs that respond to evolving workforce and community needs.

A tenured professor and Fulbright Scholar, Dr. Abdelrahman has authored more than 100 publications, holds three patents, and earned his Ph.D. in Nuclear Science and Engineering from Idaho State University.
