SUBJECT: Policy 6250 School Attendance Areas-Revised -Second Read

Policy 6250, School Attendance Areas, has been revised to establish a framework for reviewing and adjusting school attendance boundaries, conducting school closure studies, and managing changes to special enrollment programs. The revisions clarify the processes for boundary studies and open studies, including forming study teams and the factors to consider when making recommendations. The policy also incorporates statutory requirements regarding public notice and hearings, outlines procedures for school-community input, and adds provisions addressing boundary changes that affect special education special class placements. The Legal Department recommends Board approval of this revision on a second.
