Total	345	502

Most leavers left with their whole household, which points to families moving away. Partial households are more likely private, charter or home-school choices.

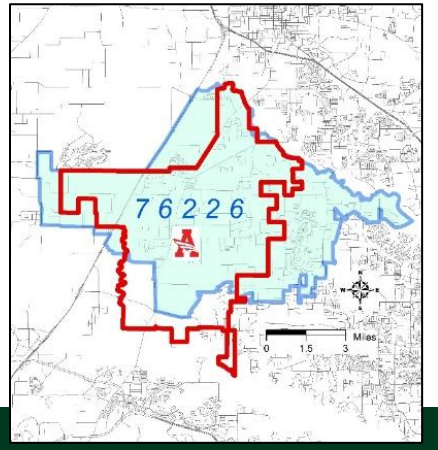

55 leavers lived at an address where a new student enrolled in 2026, likely a home resale or new renters.

Clearly the district has lost some previously enrolled Argyle families.

FACTORS INFLUENCING ENROLLMENT:
KINDERGARTEN ENROLLMENT VS. LOCAL BIRTH RATE

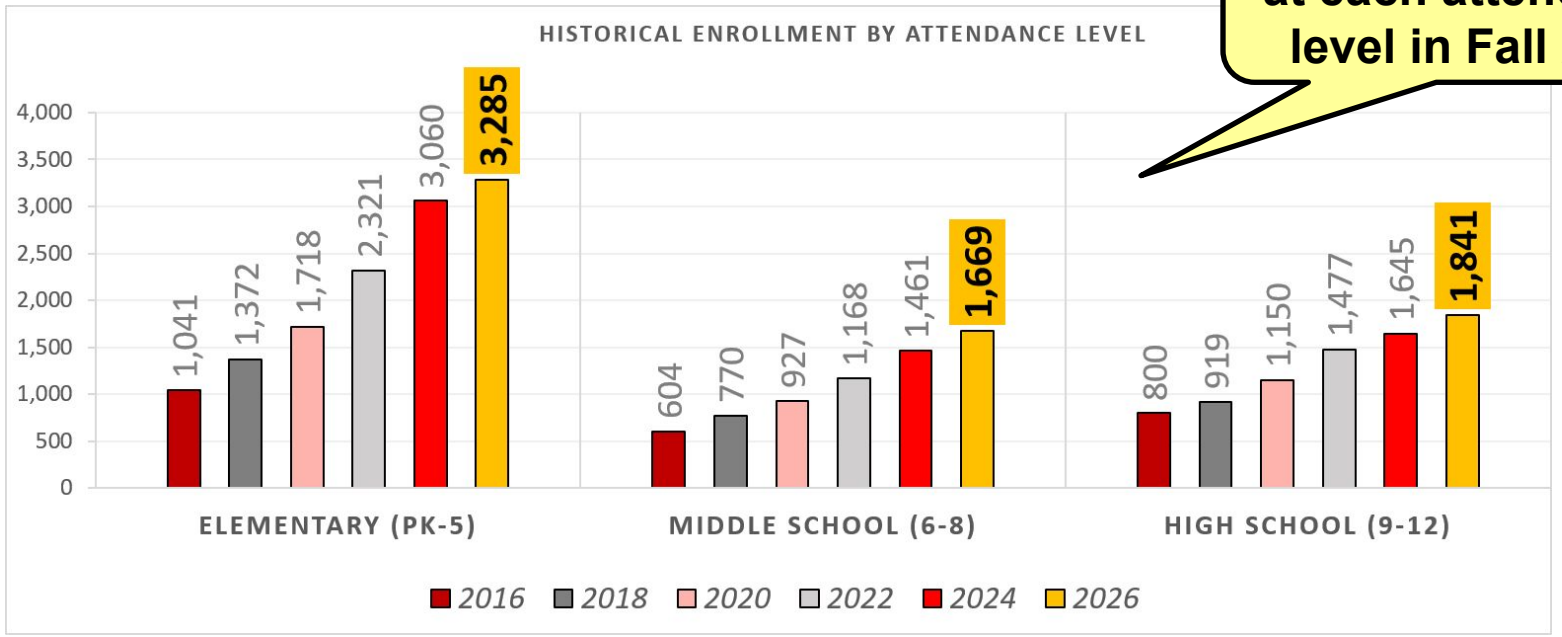

- During the 2020-2025 timeframe, Argyle ISD kindergarten enrollment totals trended upward mirroring the annual birth rate increase
- Climbing birth rate fails to produce expected KG growth in Fall 2026 as capture rate falls to a series low

Argyle ISD

Fall 2026 Demographics Summary

Overview. Argyle ISD set another enrollment record in Fall 2026 with 6,795 PK-12 students, with growth every year since 2008. Enrollment has grown 56.6% (+2,457 students) over five years and 178% (+4,350) over ten. Growth slowed sharply, however: the +194 students (+2.9%) added in Fall 2026 was the smallest annual increase since 2014, and grades K–5 added just 8 students. Every attendance level still set a record, as did six grade levels (3rd, 5th, 7th, 8th, 9th and 11th), while kindergarten (449) fell as its capture rate dropped to a series low. Enrollment finished 221 below last year's moderate forecast, led by kindergarten (-73) and high school (-78). Scott Gibson Middle School opened in August 2026 for grades 7–8.

Student movement. Of 6,022 Fall 2025 KG–11th students, 502 (8.3%) left while 660 new students joined grades 1–12 (net +158). Most leavers (408) left with their entire household, so the district is losing some established Argyle families: Argyle mailing addresses accounted for 340 leavers (9.1% rate vs. 5.7% in Northlake). Another 94 left while siblings stayed, more likely reflecting private, charter or home-school choices. Resident students still rose 4.0% (+256).

Housing activity. New home construction in the district remains constrained by a shortage of available lots rather than by demand. From 4Q25–3Q26 builders recorded 369 starts and 350 closings (-53.8% YoY), the slowest annual pace since 2017/18, and the 68 closings in 3Q26 were the lowest quarterly total since 2017. Resale volume edged up: 415 pre-owned homes sold (+4% YoY) at a median of $705K as of Sept. 2026 (-1.4%), well above DFW's $380K. Ridge at Northlake (128 closings) and Harvest (86) led new-home activity; together these areas west of I-35W have produced nearly 1,600 new AISD students since 2022, while the district's central core and east side have clearly lost some Argyle families.

Development pipeline. Lot supply is rebuilding: 733 new lots were delivered over the past 12 months (still at a three-year high), leaving 859 vacant developed lots (27.9-month supply) and 1,037 lots under development. Roughly 6,200 single-family lots and 520 multifamily units are in-process or planned, including more than 4,000 future SF lots. High Plains at Furst Ranch is the next major growth engine (101 starts over the past year, 397 VDL, 607 future lots). SDS projects 375–500 closings in the district annually in the near term—2,264 homes over five years and near 4,800 over ten.

Enrollment projections. The Moderate scenario reaches 7,254 students in 2027/28, 7,887 by 2029/30, 8,530 by 2031/32 and 9,659 by 2036/37 (+2,864 over 10 years; High +3,696). The Low scenario reaches 7,088, 7,585, 8,079 and 8,741 in the same years (+1,946 over 10 years, about 3.5% a year over the next five). Even with Ball Intermediate opening in 2027/28, elementary exceeds capacity in 4–5 years under Moderate and 5–6 under Low. Fall 2026 came in 181 students below even last year's Low scenario; if family departures and school-choice losses continue, enrollment will likely track closer to the Low Scenario.

Bottom line. Argyle ISD has shifted from rapid to moderate growth, held back near-term by limited lot supply and softer kindergarten through 2nd grade and high school enrollment, and the loss of some established Argyle families to moves and school choice, rather than by housing demand. With more than 1,000 lots under development and over 4,000 future lots planned, growth should continue, with elementary capacity the main issue to watch.
