

Denton Independent School District, Texas

May 6, 2009

Dear Dr. Ray Braswell,

Classworks offers award-winning computer-based instruction aligned to the Texas Essential Knowledge & Skills (TEKS). With more than 17,000 K-HS Math, Reading, Language Arts & Elementary Science activities and a full literacy program, students are engaged in differentiated instruction as they master content. Classworks takes existing assessment results and automatically turns them into actionable resources through individualized instruction for every student.

Acceptance of this proposal allows us to work with you to achieve your goals of:

- Aligning curriculum to the Texas Essential Knowledge & Skills (TEKS) and TAKS
- Importing assessment data for individualized prescriptions
- Increasing student achievement
- Improving test scores
- Targeting state assessment results

Implementation will include support in tracking student progress to demonstrate success. I look forward to being your partner.

Sincerely,

Sean Glass

Purchaser agrees to be a Classworks reference site for schools in and around their School District. As a reference site, it is expected that the purchaser will allow Curriculum Advantage to bring prospects to their site to see Classworks in action, to answer questions people have about the program as they are reviewing software programs, to integrate Classworks into the school day, to keep all of the latest patches and updates on all systems, to track the program successes for marketing purposes, and to elevate any concerns about the program to corporate in advance of any discussions with other schools.

In the event that Classworks Web Manager load times are unacceptably slow as a result of the location of the Classworks' Service Provider (Datapipe), Curriculum Advantage will install a Classworks Web Hosting device behind Denton ISD's firewall at no additional charge.
