Background Information

In-Person or Hybrid school board meetings	We have two options for conducting hybrid board meetings...one using an OWL that tracks participant voices and broadcasts them and one that relies on participants using Chromebooks and headsets to communicate.
Applications for educational benefits	An update about the number of families who applied for educational benefits will be shared at the meeting.
Survey of families open enrolling students out of the district	Dawn Wettern is leading the effort to survey families who are open-enrolling in/out of the district. She is focusing on this year's families because the Ed-Fi and Student Services Coordinator called families this summer to find out reasons for leaving. Dawn will compile the data so we can formulate a response plan. After completion of this year's data, we can call families who open enrolled last year.
College in the Schools	The University of Minnesota shared the attached report detailing the impact of College-in-the-Schools courses.
Online Learning Provider	Karsten met with Cherie about GCED's online learning application for grades 4-12. Red Wing can provide an online school next year under GCED's umbrella. Participating students would remain Red Wing students, online teachers would remain Red Wing teachers, and there is only nominal cost for Red Wing to participate. The recommendation is to provide online learning through GCED if/when GCED's application is approved by the State and if GCED successfully extends the application to include grades K-3.
