

February 5, 2019

Greetings from Glendale,

We hope you are all staying safe and warm.

Congratulations to our students for 96% attendance for 2nd quarter. During the month of January the students enjoyed learning about Earth's changing surface as a science unit. For the cumulative activity the students created paper mache volcanoes. We will be painting them and erupting them by the end of the week. It was a very fun project which the students enjoyed greatly.

Many students competed in the KeepMontanaGreen poster contest. This is a contest focusing on wildland fire prevention. Students created posters with the Prepare, Prevent, Protect slogan. The posters will be sent to the KeepMontanaGreen association and if a students poster is selected it will be published in next years 2020 calendar. The students were very excited to participate the in the contest. We had a high participation rate and many wonderful entries.

Once again, stay safe, stay warm.
