Hanna Jarman

Hanna came into a situation last year that was very difficult. She started half way through the school year after her predecessor left without much warning. Hanna swooped in and took these special students under her wings. She created routines for the students that helped them achieve both academically as well as socially. They absolutely love her. She is so kind yet has high expectations for all of her students. She is great with parents. She is willing to do anything to help students and their parents feel supported. I have never witnessed a new teacher take over a class and totally flip it to the positive like Hanna has. She is amazing!!
