WHAT IS FBLA?

FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) is a club with chapters from schools all over the country. It's goal is to educate young people (middle school through college-aged) on the inner workings of the business world and how it functions. Through competitive events, members learn a multitude of skills and are exposed to a professional environment earlier on in their careers, preparing them adequately for the future.

NEAH-KAH-NIE FBLA

Neah-Kah-Nie High Schools' FBLA chapter was established in 1976. Throughout the years, the club has continued to inspire young people to pursue careers in business and provide them with necessary experience for their futures. In the past two years, five students have advanced to the National Leadership Conference. In 2025, over 17,000 participants came to the NLC from all over the United States and U.S. territories, hosted in Anaheim, California.

BENEFITS OF FBLA

FBLA provides opportunities that students might not be able to get otherwise. At Neah-Kah-Nie in particular, only so many business classes are available to students, so for a person who wants a future in business, FBLA gives them a way to gain experience and skills.

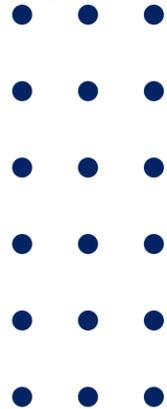

2026 saw a sizeable increase in FBLA competitors at Neah-Kah-Nie. We conducted a survey to see why students decided to join. Overall, 50% of students said they joined to gain experience for the future.
