On August 7th -9th, OES hosted its own Professional Development activities. The majority of our faculty participated in two or three days of trainings. The days involved a concentrated focus on the new state assessment system and its implications concerning instructional practices.

Additionally, Tonya Poindexter provided training in CSCOPE, DMAC, and SIOP. Mary Castanuela, from the ESC, also trained teachers in administering the Woodcock-Munoz. (An assessments tool that aides in identifying ELL students and their level of English language acquisition).

As teachers continue to prepare their classrooms for the beginning of school, several sought additional professional growth opportunities throughout the summer at the ESC in San Angelo.

Our custodial staff has also been busy preparing for our students return. The floors are polished and rooms are clean.

All staff members will report on August 20th. Their week is scheduled with learning events that incorporate all required trainings; as well as a continuation of analyzing STAAR, and the attributes of true vertical alignment.
