D Appealing City or County Residential Development Decisions

(Out-of-date policy, issue is not relevant any longer.)

A residential development which has received a “not adequate” service provider statement and is subsequently approved by a city or county will be reviewed by district legal counsel and the assistant superintendent for school support. Each case will be analyzed to determine if the project will be appealed by the district. The district will utilize all local appeal processes available. Appealing beyond the local level requires Board approval.

The specific procedures for providing service provider statements to the cities and counties are described in FBC-AR - Service Provider Statements.
