

By Design, LIA Students Engage In Three Evidenced-Based, Core Components During Class Time:

College And Career Readiness Curriculum:

Our culturally relevant, college and career readiness curriculum bolsters students' current academic performance while preparing them for their futures as college-bound students and contributing members of society. The curriculum offers high-quality instruction on post-secondary education options and readiness, personal development, professionalism, and an exploration of one's cultural heritage through literary and performing arts.

Leadership Development:

Each LIA student gains real-life leadership experience by participating in student-lead service, social, and professional committees. We are scaffolding their leadership skills and then infusing the students back into the school community, better prepared to lead and serve.

Literacy Tutoring:

From approximately October to April, LIA students serve as role models, mentors, and literacy tutors for neighboring elementary school students. This partnership helps both parties develop linguistic proficiency, refine social skills, and deepen their understanding of the value of being bilingual, biliterate, and bicultural.

Family Engagement

Our Family Engagement Program serves as a bridge connecting families to the educational journey of their children. Understanding the indispensable role that families play in the holistic development of students, we've devised this program to foster active involvement and participation of parents and guardians in their child's education. The program offers a range of activities including workshops, courses, an annual leadership conference, and a variety of other events designed to promote mutual understanding, collaboration, and growth. By doing so, we aim to elevate our students' academic experience and enrich their personal development.

CONTACT FAMILY ENGAGEMENT SPECIALIST

Active Participation

Families have the opportunity to actively participate in their child's educational process, leading to a more personalized and enriched learning experience.

Empowerment

Equip yourself with the knowledge and tools to better support your child's educational journey and future career path.

Community Building

Connect with other families, engage in meaningful dialogues, and strengthen bonds within the community.

Insight:

Gain a deeper understanding of the values and pedagogy of Latinos In Action, and contribute towards fostering a supportive learning environment.

Leadership:

Enhance your leadership skills through our annual conference and various other events, enabling you to effectively guide your children and serve as role models in your communities.