

Associate of Arts Transfer (AAT)

Human Development and Family Services AAT

a. Program Description

If you are interested in pursuing a career in the interdisciplinary field of Human Development and Family Services, Clackamas Community College can give you a strong foundation for your goals. The courses recommended in this pathway will help you to explore key topics related to human development and the contemporary challenges and social justice issues facing children, families, and communities. This coursework prepares students for careers in generalist human services, family education, early childhood education, and addiction sciences or graduate degrees in interdisciplinary fields such as human services administration, early childhood education, human development and family science, social work, youth work, counseling professions, community health, and prevention and evaluation.
