Why Attend

The National Collegiate Landscape Competition brings together every sector of the industry in an event you don't want to miss! Are you an educator looking to provide a professional experience for your horticulture students, a student looking to network and advance your career, a landscape company looking to hire the best talent or an industry manufacturer looking to connect with the next generation? If so, NCLC is for you.

.....To our presence on the podium at the finish.
Alice and Alex brought home a Silver for Second Place in the Employee Development competition.

Our Attitude sets us apart.

Competing against 4 year schools with teams of 30+ students, our little team gets noticed by judges and Industry reps for ferocity and fun!

Our students take their commitment seriously.
First, study independently for 10 weeks, with little guidance from instructors.

Then they fly to another time zone, and in between competitions and meeting industry representatives, they find time to take their final exams remotely.
That's right, the competition is during finals week!!

Making friends across the country, CCC students build networks for their future!

In fact, some of our students are living their future!

Some of our team pictured here with a past CCC team member.

Carinda was hired by Pacific Landscape Management after her impressive two years at the competition.

And now she comes to the event scouting new talent and sharing her energy!

The competitions are mental,
physical, and stressful.
And FUN!
