Section I: Abstract of Project/Activity

The Coppell ISD Literacy Intervention Support Program is designed to serve students who are identified as struggling readers in K-12 at nine elementary campuses and four secondary campuses. Literacy Intervention support teachers, one teacher per campus, assist targeted students in grades K-12 to develop literacy skills needed for academic success. The amount of support each student receives is dependent on the results of their individual assessments.

Coppell ISD is applying under the literacy provision of the Coppell Education Development Corporation for a total of $729, 917 to fund salaries for these thirteen personnel units and $75,000 to provide additional non-fiction literacy resources for all students.

Students must achieve highly developed literacy and thinking skills in order to work toward the Coppell ISD Profile of the Graduate goals that, (I.) “A scholar of high reputation (b) transfers and applies knowledge and skills in meaningful ways that lead to further learning opportunities, (e) utilizes critical reading and thinking skills, and (g) seeks knowledge independently, responsibly and purposefully.”

Section II: Description of Proposal and Nature of Request:

Goals for the elementary program and the additional non-fiction literacy resources are based upon the Twelve Essential Components of Research-Based Programs for Beginning Readers from the Texas Education Agency. Essential components (goals) are as follows:

Children will have the opportunities...

1. to expand their use and appreciation of oral language.
2. to expand their use and appreciation of printed language.
3. to hear good stories and informational books read aloud daily.
4. to understand and manipulate the building blocks of spoken language.

5. to learn about and manipulate the building blocks of written language.
6. to learn the relationship between the sounds of spoken language and the letters of written language.
7. to learn decoding strategies.
8. to write and relate their writing to spelling and reading.
9. to practice accurate and fluent reading in decodable stories and pattern-type readers.
10. to read and comprehend a wide assortment of books and other texts.
11. to develop and comprehend new vocabulary through wide reading and direct vocabulary instruction.
12. to learn and apply comprehension strategies as they reflect upon and think critically about what they read.

Goals for the secondary program and the additional non-fiction literacy resources are based on the Reading Next: A Vision for Action and Research in Middle and High School Literacy (2004).

The fifteen key elements are:

1. Direct, explicit comprehension instruction
2. Effective instructional principles embedded in content
3. Motivation and self-directed learning
4. Text-based collaborative learning
5. Strategic tutoring
6. Diverse texts
7. Intensive writing
8. A technology component
9. Ongoing formative assessment of students
10. Extended time for literacy
11. Professional development

12. Ongoing summative assessment of students and programs
13. Teacher teams
14. Leadership
15. A comprehensive and coordinated literacy program

To effectively meet these goals the literacy teachers will:

- Provide intensive, focused literacy instruction to identified students on a daily basis and constantly monitor students' literacy growth.
- Assist regular classroom teachers in identifying students at-risk of reading failure based upon assessment results and work cooperatively with classroom teachers to plan effectively for these identified students.
- Coordinate state mandated Early Reading Assessments in grades kindergarten, first and second grade three times a year.
- Provide model teaching in the classroom in literacy skills development.
- Work cooperatively with teachers and principals to promote literacy at each campus and participate in monthly literacy study sessions with other literacy support teachers and the Language Arts Curriculum Directors to keep current on reading and writing research and effective literacy program implementation.
- Provide additional literacy resources for both students and teachers.

In order to meet the reading goal set by then Governor George W. Bush in 1996 stating that, "All students will read on or above level or higher by the end of third grade and continue reading on or above grade level throughout their schooling," literacy support is imperative in the early grades and is an essential necessity for the continuation of literacy development at the secondary level.

As a result of the reading goal set by then Governor Bush, guidelines were given to educators.

Guidelines for the mandated Accelerated Instruction included the following:

- Identify target students and instructional priorities based upon assessment results.
- Provide for at least 30 minutes of additional systematic and explicit literacy instruction.
- Provide small group instruction in the areas of phonemic awareness (elementary), phonics, reading fluency, reading comprehension and writing.
- Use highly trained professionals to deliver instruction and provide interventions.

Without the requested funds, the CISD will need to reexamine current student teacher ratios and accessibility to quality non-fiction text in all classes. Denial of CEDC funds may also result in a decrease in specialized programs for all students in the district. If CISD is not able to adequately fund this program at the current level, a decrease in the district's state accountability rating could result.
