BACKGROUND/CONSIDERATIONS:

One of our goals this year was to develop a model pilot school at Tilles Elementary to establish best practices for technology use in the classroom. Our district chose to use the Substitution, Augmentation, Modification and Redefinition (SAMR) Model along with other resources to create training modules, a coaching schedule and walk-through observation tool in an effort to train and support our teachers in the use of best practices for technology integration into our curriculum and instruction. The attached presentation will share the implementation progress and supporting data.

Additionally, we developed an Edtech Coaching Plan that will be shared.
