District 97 and staff will not only have the iPad Mini and other technological tools available for students, but also make use of beneficial online programs that enhance the learning environment and offer opportunities to differentiate instruction, while meeting the varying student learning styles. Below is a list of programs that our staff may use this year for students and you can find this list and links to the privacy policies at www.op97.org/ilearn (tab on the side for Accounts/Programs). While these programs do require some student information for account creation, we closely review all privacy policies and remain focused and diligent about limiting the student information shared to directory information. The programs used include, but are not limited to: Google Apps for Education, Apple iCloud/Apple ID, Edmodo, Ten Marks, Connected – MyMath, Canvas, Khan Academy, KidBlog, Newsela, FastForWord, Moby Max, Lexia Core 5, Read 180, Treasures (reading curriculum), Realidades (world language), IXL, XtraMath, Nearpod, JunoEd, Triumph Learning, Spelling VocabCity, Sketchbook Pro, Custom Typing and Write Online.

By completing the following you are acknowledging and signing off with consent for the statements regarding the above "I" statements and programs that may be used during the upcoming year.
