LIBRARY NEWS

Thank you to all the families who helped with the book fair! Our school was able to add about 60 new books to our library through Scholastic Dollars!

For those parents who are interested in finding out if their child's books are AR qualified, please log on to ARbookfind.com and type in the book title in quick search. If you are not able to find it that way, use the "advanced search" tab and fill in the ISBN barcode number from the back of the book, or the author's name. It will come up with a detailed page if your book has a test available that includes the BL (book level) and points. We will hand out parent connect slips at conference time in November with your student's login information. You may also log onto our LSMS home page and search "Library Resources" to go into various library or research websites.

Our students are off to a great start with reading! Continue to encourage 30 minutes of reading each night and watch your student improve. AR books are great to read at home, but they can also read the Newspaper or Magazines you have. Younger siblings also enjoy having a big brother or sister read stories to them as an alternate to their parent reading it. There are so many ways to keep them Reading!

CAFETERIA NEWS

We want to remind everyone that there is "NO CHARGE" to students for breakfast, lunch or the after-school dinner programs!
