Education Ambassador Award – Gerald Holmes

We'd like to again congratulate you on your recent selection as an Education Ambassador—and thank you for representing the teaching profession so honorably. You were selected as an educator who inspires students and has the creativity and perseverance to make a transformational difference in the future of education. Such educators are continuous learners and role models for the education profession, and we were thrilled that you were able to be our guest at the PSEC Education Summit at Walt Disney World this last summer.

With the new school year now begun, we'd like also to send the $500 award grant to benefit your classroom and/or students, which can be used to at your discretion in consultation with your school and/or district. To ensure we have all the necessary and updated information to send the check, please have your school principal complete/sign the below section and return the form to us.

Thank you again for your dedication to education!
