Goal/Objective Addressed	Goal 5: CISD will develop Co-Curricular programs that enhance students' educational experiences, academic achievement, and school community pride.
Background	The current policy is considered outdated. The Administrative Code rules required the Board of Trustees to decide how many absences a student can have related to participation in extracurricular activities. The standard language for many years reflected what is often called the "10-5-2 rule" because UIL had a rule that allowed a student 10 absences prior to post-district competitions, 5 for post-district competitions, and 2 for state competitions. That is no longer a rule. Common practice now is for districts to list a total number of absences that students can have related to participation or to decide not to specify an exact number as long as the student is eligible, meeting the "no pass/no play" requirement in law.
