

December

Greetings Evergreen Families,

Happy Holidays-

The chilly weather is upon us. More and more items are ending up in the lost and found. Please remember to write your student's name in their jackets. With this chilly weather, there is also the temptation to stay in bed a little longer. A polite reminder that many of our core subjects are in the morning, so a tardy greatly impacts instructional time. Thank you for getting your student in bed early to allow for plenty of sleep.

Our book fair is this month! Thank you for those who have volunteered to assist this year. It is greatly appreciated.

Finally, with the holiday season upon us I want to wish you all a time of rest, wellness, and family time. Reading a great book over the time we are off is a wonderful experience for your students, so remind your child to bring home a library book over our winter break.

Sincerely,
Jenny Jones
Principal

Silliness from the desk of Mrs. Jones

What did the tree say after a long, cold winter?
What a re-leaf!
