INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The College District maintains portfolios that use four specific investment strategy considerations designed to address the unique characteristics of the fund groups represented in the portfolios.

Investment of funds shall be governed by the following investment objectives, in order of priority, for each fund listed below:

1. Investment suitability as it relates to the financial requirement of the College District;

2. Preservation and safety of principal to ensure that capital losses are avoided whether they be from defaults or erosion of market value;
3. Liquidity to the extent needed to pay the College District's obligations as they become due;
4. Investment marketability provided the need arises for the College District to liquidate the investment prior to its maturity date, although securities of all types are purchased with the intention of holding until maturity;
5. Investment diversification by maturity; and
6. Yield to attain the best rate of return on investments, while considering risk constraints and cash flow needs; the basis or benchmark used to determine whether market yields are being achieved shall be the three-month Treasury Bill.

The primary objective of the investment strategy for the operating fund shall be to ensure that anticipated cash flows are matched with adequate investment liquidity. Maturities shall be staggered to meet operating expenditures, based on known and projected cash flows and market conditions. Twenty-four months is the maximum maturity for the majority of securities in the portfolio.

Like the operating fund, the primary objective of the investment strategy for the building fund shall be to ensure that maturities are matched with anticipated cash flows. Maturities shall be staggered so that they coincide with estimated draw down dates based on construction schedules and estimated project completion dates. In any case, investment maturity shall not be greater than ~~24~~³⁶ months except on bond proceed investments, which can be invested to the IRS temporary period.

The primary objective of the investment strategy for the debt service fund shall be to ensure that investment liquidity is adequate to cover the debt service obligation on the required payment date. Securities purchased shall not have a stated final maturity date that exceeds the next unfounded debt service payment date. Investments for this fund shall generally be short term (360 days or less).

Debt service reserve funds have no anticipated expenditures. The funds are deposited to provide annual debt service payment protection to bond holders. Market conditions and arbitrage regulation compliance determine the advantage of security diversification and liquidity. Generally, if investment rates exceed the applicable arbitrage yield for a specific bond issue, the College District is best served by locking in investment maturities and reducing liquidity. If the arbitrage yield cannot be exceeded, the concurrent market conditions shall determine the attractiveness of locking in maturities or investing shorter and anticipating future increased yields. Managing the portfolios maturities to not exceed the call provisions of the bond issue shall reduce the investment's market risk if the College District's bonds are called and the reserve fund liquidated. No investment maturity shall exceed the final maturity of the bond issue. All portfolio investments shall be in compliance with bond covenants and insurance requirements of all bond issues.
