Report from Ms. Fenners Class (K-2)

Oki,

November came and went in the blink of an eye! The students in Ms. Fenner's Classroom enjoyed their month of learning about magnets, Thanksgiving, and demonstrated outstanding social skills. The students worked daily on an interactive Science notebook that involved many skills. They learned about a magnet and how it works, math estimation, and objects that may or may not be magnetic. With each lesson that they completed they would record data in a fun notebook shaped like a magnet. They were also given daily lessons on the Thanksgiving holiday. They learned that Thanksgiving is a special holiday set aside to give thanks for family, food, shelter, and good health, but they also learned that we should give thanks for the good things in their lives everyday. Ms. Fenner's students are very thankful for their families, friends, food, homes, and their teacher. They are eager to learn and have extremely large hearts. They had the opportunity to demonstrate just how much I mean to them, when my daughter gave birth to my granddaughter. While I was away they sent me a message to share with Kenzie and baby Leilani. When I returned home they were excited to see me and ready to learn! Their little smiling faces and kind hearts reminded me of why I work so hard. I am truly thankful for each and everyone of them. Until next month, be safe and Happy Holidays from all of us to all of you!

Report from Ms. Weekes Class (3-6)

Here is my November happenings.

November went by like a flash for the 3-6 grades. We have been busy studying Native American tribes in 4 regions of the United States, and now are making posters to display. We had no referrals in the 1st quarter and on the 30th we had our quarterly MBI fun day. It turned out great.

Happy Holidays from BABB ELEMENTARY STAFF
