Teaching and Learning

- Redefining Ready
- With the completion of a master schedule and the work done at CESA 9 on April 13th, we have set our Redefining Indicators that will be used at the elementary level. Our next step will be to organize the data into a Redefining Ready report card that will be used next school year. I am also currently looking at how this work proceeds in a direction toward developing a portrait of a graduate at the elementary level.

Staff will leave for the summer with a master schedule in place for the 2023-2024 school year.
