

The State of Texas House of Representatives

H.R. No. 295

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, Nine Texas community colleges have been ranked in the top 10 percent of community colleges in the country by the Aspen Institute; and

WHEREAS, Recognizing 120 schools for their innovative strategies and exceptional results, the Aspen Institute has named to its list Alvin Community College in Alvin, Trinity Valley Community College in Athens, Lee College in Baytown, Blinn College in Brenham, Texas State Technical College-West Texas in Sweetwater, Texarkana College in Texarkana, Southwest Texas Junior College in Uvalde, Victoria College in Victoria, and Wharton County Junior College in Wharton; the institutions were selected through analysis of publicly available data with technical support from the National Center for Higher Education Management Systems and guidance from the institute's Data/Metrics Advisory Panel; among the criteria that the institute examined were overall student performance, improvement, and performance by minority students; and

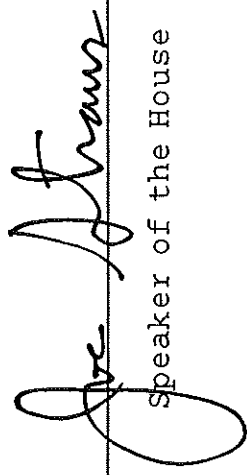

WHEREAS, The Aspen Institute was founded in 1950 to provide a forum through which leaders could better understand the human challenges facing the organizations and communities they serve; the institute's College Excellence Program highlights institutions that have achieved high levels of student success, and the schools named to its list are eligible to compete for the $700,000 Aspen Prize for Community College Excellence; and

WHEREAS, The Aspen Institute employed a rigorous process to rate the nation's community colleges, and inclusion in its list of the top 120 is indeed a prestigious accolade; now, therefore, be it

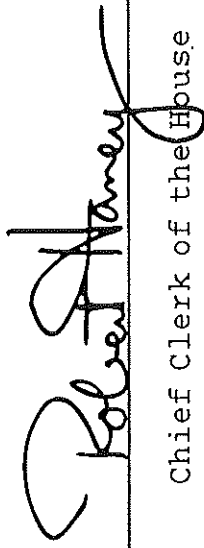

RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the 82nd Texas Legislature, 1st Called Session, hereby congratulate the Texas community colleges that were named among the top 120 community colleges in the nation by the Aspen Institute and extend to all those associated with these outstanding institutions sincere best wishes for continued success; and, be it further

RESOLVED, That official copies of this resolution be prepared for the schools as an expression of high regard by the Texas House of Representatives.
