

I would also like to share an email from Emily Lindley and her response to the allegations that have been made.

I have learned of some serious allegations against me (or another left handed female, new board member). I am livid. The handwriting on the agenda in question is not even close to my handwriting and the words written on that agenda aren't words that would have come out of my mouth. Also, I am not 12 years old. I am not up to date on slang and I would not substitute a number to represent a word when making a statement. Also, I have walked out of every single meeting with all of my papers. I have even accidentally taken the folder with me that I am supposed to leave behind! I am not a hateful person and, believe it or not, I do NOT hate Indus. My decision on what should happen with the Indus school is not one that I have taken lightly. I know who I am. I am a devoted Wife. I am a loving Mother. I have a successful and very demanding career that I pour my heart into. I am a Volunteer First Responder because I want to help people. I am a School Board Member because I care about our students, faculty, and the community. I am NOT petty or the type of person that writes "Bye Bye Indus I hate you" on a piece of paper and leaves it on a table. I demand to know the answers! I want to know the facts. Where was it found, who found it, where has it been, where is the proof of who wrote it, where is the proof that it was written by a left-handed female who is a new board member? I can say with 100% confidence that it wasn't me. Show me your facts! I want names of everyone involved and not generalized statements and assumptions. If you are willing to make serious allegations, you better be willing to stand behind the allegations and show your proof!
