Bloomberg is a global financial news and media company. We provide data to the entire municipal bond market which includes investors and financial institutions worldwide. Due to the recent worldwide economic downturn and events which resulted in investors' diminished confidence in ratings agencies and insurance companies, investors are looking at underlying credit very closely. It is our role to collect financial reports and make them easily available to investors who have purchased or are interested in purchasing securities.

We are trying to complete our records with annual financial information for municipalities, districts, authorities, obligors of municipal bonds and other government-run corporations throughout the country. Our current coverage encompasses more than 48,000 municipal issuers and both public received great demand from investors for this product which will provide more transparency into the municipal bond market. For entities without municipal debt outstanding, this offers the opportunity for representation in a nationwide database of municipalities free of charge.

Most investors like to see a minimum of 5 years of financial history, if possible, when assessing an entity's financial health and making investment decisions. Bloomberg has commenced a fundamentals product that will make this possible. At your earliest convenience, please send us the Financial Statements for the following: Fiscal Year(s) 2017 Christian Shelby & Montgomery Counties Community Unit School District No 8 Pana, since we do not have these documents.
