

January 21, 2008

Greetings from the Calendar Committee!

We hope the new semester is going wonderfully for you! After many trials and tribulations, we have devised two possible calendars for the 2008-2009 school year. Both calendars have school beginning on August 25, in order to comply with Texas law.

Another noticeable element of these two calendars is they do not include flex-days. Because of the discussion about the continuance of flex days, we didn't include them in the drafts, but they can be added later, depending on what is decided regarding flex days.

The first calendar (A) we like to call the "tight" calendar. This one is a lot like this year's calendar, with not very many holidays, and various Early Outs throughout the year.

The "loose" calendar (B) is just the opposite of the first choice, complete with a week off for Thanksgiving, other holidays throughout the year.

We ask you, before you vote to truly think about some things. First and foremost, how tired we all are, as a district, because we have not had many holidays this year? Also, how would it affect our students to go to school during June? There are positives and negatives in both calendars, but before you vote, really consider what is best for our students. Please email your vote to Louisa Stone at louisas@brackett.k12.tx.us by Friday, January, 25.

Thanks!
