

The Evidence-Based Literacy Instruction (EBLI) program is honestly, the way I wish all kids were taught to read. When I think back to my own "learning to read", this would have made it SO much better.

My students are functioning in the moderately cognitive impaired range and although their pace is a bit slower than the typical child, they are making progress. I have used some of the strategies of EBLI with my youngest daughter and have seen a difference in her. The program is a valuable tool to use with kids!
