

Cooperative Student Teaching Agreement

Background:

A student (or students) who is an aspiring teacher may have requested the opportunity to perform his/her student teaching experience at Belmond-Klemme Schools.

Most colleges and universities do not require a formal contract for student teaching experiences, but a few schools do such as Waldorf, Iowa State, and UNI. Some colleges even pay a small stipend to the cooperating teacher.

Recommended Action:

I recommend the board move to approve the Cooperative Student Teaching Agreement.
