Good morning.

It's with mixed emotions that I'm writing to you this morning. I've been offered a job with EBS (Educational Based Services) and I've accepted the job. It also means that I will not be returning to Irving for the upcoming school year.

Although I will miss Irving school staff and students, this is a huge opportunity to grow my career in helping children. I deeply appreciate your support and thank you for making Irving a wonderful place to work. Please consider this email as my notice.

Thank you again for all your support.

Best,
Sabrina Douglas
