- VIII) New business
 - 1) Spring conferences: Parent teacher conferences are on March 14th. If some parents are no available then they can zoom teachers or email.
 - 2) Pre-school: We are unsure why Maxine wanted this on the lsac meeting. We do know its because of some parents feeling like they are being targeted. We as an LSAC we understand that there is only one preschool teacher and she has 7 students. Chanel has stated that some of the kids have been pulled from school, she only has 4 students this week. Lsac recognizes that Olivia goes down to help Chanel, and maybe Olivia need to be talked to about how to handle kids' behaviors at school. Chanel has been going through Josh to talk to parents.
 - 3) Deep clean school: Sickness have been back to back to back. Kids have been sick more than ever this month. LSAC would like the school deep cleaned, soft surfaces included with high traffic areas. We know Richard is the janitor and we as parents would like to donate our time and recourses to help disinfect the school. Maxine has joined the meeting and spoke more about the preschool, about how things at school need to be handled better by staff and parents. Tisha stated that preschool is a place to learn academics, we need parents to understand that school is not responsible for teaching good behaviors or manners. Students should already know that before school.

- 4) New LSAC Member: Breanna Griechen Sworn in as of today. We will have her sign the oath at the next meeting. Since not all of the Isac is here today we will reorganize the board, if needed at the next meeting.

IX) Correspondence: None

- X) Principal's report: Josh: Jamboree is March 27th to 29th. Includes a small snap meet. The regular snap meet will have a written and driving test for students wanting to get their learners permits or drivers licenses. Josh has maintenance's looking at quotes for new doors and bleachers. Asks for any idea for events next year so we can include new teachers as well as to put on the calendar. Josh has the calendar for next year and we will need to put in tentative dates for the next years carnival/Inservice dates. As of today the council is suggesting march 10th and 11th of 2025.

XI) Teacher reports:

- 1) JW: CTE is 18th to 23rd of march. We have Micarlo, Charlie, Angel going and will be traveling back to Port Heiden on the 24th. There will be another CTE at the last week of school that students can apply to soon. JW has the goal of tackling the "low hanging fruit" to know out standards and set the students up for next year. Katie has been a big help with student government, she tackles the fundraising and working with the students while JW does the paperwork and finances. Students seem to be making money but the students have not tallied up their profits yet. We have 2 seniors that have only 2-3 weeks left of work and they are done. Students want to wait to open their store until the first day of carnival. The village will help them order more products so they can stay open the rest of the year.
- 2) Katie: Katie is Waiting to open store but student government will be holding an event one a week. There was a basketball tournament last week that was fun and successful. Maybe the students will get to do another son. Students have made stickers with their logo, and have already come in. Katie has looked into T-shirts being made out of Anchorage and it was reasonable, although hoodies were not reasonable. JW will deposit money soon. Hoodies are TBD right now as well as seat cushions and tote bags. As there is no cost-effective place to order them from right now. Katie is still looking for blankets to customize. Katie will not be here next year. This is officially her last year here after 9 years of teaching in Port Heiden. Katie will set up a google drive to share the student government info for teachers next year. Tisha asked to be added to the drive as it maybe helpful to have an LSAC member have access as well. Kids will be selling pizza for carnival. Parents please encourage students to participate and more importantly the students need to thank their volunteers. The last student government even two teachers got stuck with dishes and cleaning the kitchen and the students did not even thank them or help them. Katie did a dyslexia study with the kids and it was so great. Students are working on NYO right now. John wants encourage the kids to go to NYO and would like to see more of our kids go to state NYO.

- 3) Julia: She will be staying for half the year next year. She wants the kids to have an easier transition into the new school year without Katie. The kids have asked for Dwight and Linda back to teach. Julia will have a full class and may even take on some of Katies students. Olivia has been going down and teaching cultural classes to the kids.
- 4) Denali: this is her last LSAC meeting. Her internship is done at the end of the school year. She has really enjoyed working with all the kids. The council has been a big help in her work. And all was very enjoyable. She will miss working with all the kids. Tisha commented saying that the kids were all asking for a turn to talk with Denali, and wanting to each spend time visiting her.

XII) Community Comments: We would like to hold a farewell party for Katie for her 9 years of service to the community of Port Heiden. Max wanted to talk about the recent Cyberbullying that was going on. The teachers didn't know much about it, but it was brought to their attention. If parents are concerned about cyber bullying then they should get proof and then bring it to the schools attention or the parents directly. Tisha stated that there are sever consequences for students who cyber bully, even if it happens outside of school. So parents should not be so quick to claim cyber bullying, if there is no proof or if they cannot accurately say who the bully is. The recent incident involved one student and each parent of that student blamed a different kid. One parent went to talk to the School and the other parent went to talk to another parent. The Isac would like for student code of conduct to be enforced, when necessary, and properly. We hope that those parents re-read the bullying policies and go to the schools staff in a proper manner.
