Background Information

Joshua Fuchs, Bethany Jasin, and Stacy Schultz will present on the literacy work the high school has started this year. Using our reading data from MCA and FastBridge, we know that more than half of our students are not reading at grade level. Our work this year has been to start making a conscious effort to build literacy practices into each classroom. We have been working on making sure our learning goal for the class period includes information about reading, writing, listening, and speaking. We will be sharing out our baseline data and where we are after 2 PD sessions.
