Ready for tomorrow

Matt Bono- 12th Grade

A true leader on the field, mat, track, and in the classroom, Matt represents everything it means to be a proud Polars three-sport student-athlete. As a senior competing in football, wrestling, and track, he leads by example through his work ethic, dedication, and strong character. Matt has committed to play football at Dordt University, where he plans to continue making an impact both academically and athletically.

Congratulations, Matt — we're proud of you!

Ready for tomorrow

Maya Forsberg- 12th Grade

A true leader both on and off the stage, Maya brings energy, heart, and excellence to every performance. As an officer in Northern Lights Show Choir and the unforgettable Ariel in The Little Mermaid, she captivated audiences with her powerful, emotionally rich vocals. Maya's passion and talent continue to inspire — and we can't wait to see where her stage journey takes her next!

Ready for tomorrow

Frances Baldwin - 10th Grade

For Tartan Theatre's recent production of Elf, not only did Frances stage manage a cast of 50+, her largest cast yet, but she also took on the role of sound designer & engineer. She was in charge of securing the rental of all of the sound equipment, maintaining it throughout the tech and performance process, and mixing the show live — balancing the mix of 24 actor microphones and music / sound effect playback that the audience heard each evening. Some or all of these responsibilities are typically owned by an adult staff member, but Frances took the lead on every aspect of this herself and fulfilled these duties exceptionally. She has much to be proud of, especially since it was her first time in this sound designer role.
