Division of Academics

State Accountability Overview

A-F accountability ratings possibly released during the month of October

A-F ratings are based on:

Domain 1:

Student Achievement - how well students have learned the academic content

Domain 2:

School Progress - how much all students have gained academically over the course of the year

Domain 3:

Closing the Gap - how well schools raise academic performance among certain groups of students

AUSTIN, Texas – September 12, 2023 – The Texas Education Agency (TEA) today announced a temporary delay in the release of 2023 A-F accountability ratings for districts and campuses, originally scheduled for September 28th.

TEA anticipates the additional growth analysis will delay the issuance of final rules and ratings by approximately one month, and the agency will provide specific dates for 2023 ratings release at least two weeks ahead of the release of public ratings.
