Jennifer Rowe highlighted in Educator Spotlight

Jennifer Rowe, inclusion teacher at Providence Elementary, has a knack for making all of her students to fit in. And when you're working with kids that are at various levels of learning, it's hard to make sure that everyone sees everything the same way. So what's the best way to do that? You develop a plan where everyone has a chance to share like Whiteboard Wednesday. Let's see how Ms. Rowe is doing it in this month's Denton ISD Educator Spotlight.
