Principal’s General Narrative:

I had the pleasure of presenting at the Mid-Winter Conference with campus leaders; Jamie Ballew, Kathy Bader, and Louisa Stone. It was a great honor for us to share with those that attended the presentation some of the things we do that have helped us over the years to consistently reach high levels of success.

Our spring semester is getting busier by the day. Extracurricular activities both athletic and academic are going well and our sponsors and students are representing the school well as always.

We have managed to survive a couple of cold spells without using any bad weather days. Hopefully we can continue to save those days.

The high school and junior high faculty, as always, would like to express our appreciation for the support and leadership from the school board, superintendent, and everyone in the central office. Thanks.

Frank Taylor
