Setting a Homeschool Routine

Setting up a good routine in the beginning may seem challenging at first, but pays off in the long run. Here are some tips to get started:

1. Create a learning environment. Does your child have a learning area or desk? Is there proper lighting? Think of any distractions that could hinder your child from learning.
2. Order curriculum early and school supplies before getting started. Create a designated space for those supplies and curriculum.
3. Is your child a night owl or early riser? Work out a schedule together with your child and that works best for your family.
4. Set expectations/goals for the day to day, or by semester. Goals should be realistic. Be mindful of when grades and work samples are due.
5. Plan out the school year, if you're able. Utilizing a calendar can help guide you and make changes as needed.
