Principal's General Narrative:

Well we are officially in the last month of school and the countdown has begun. The students are all worn out from all the activities, events and studying taking place. We have a lot still to come in this last month and I look forward to all the hustle and bustle. Teachers and students are hard at work preparing for STAAR retest and End of Year Exams. I invite each one of you to join us in any or all of the above listed activities that you can attend.

Respectfully,

Christy Price
