Design West is getting close to giving us a cost for the high school HVAC project.

I am still waiting on Design West for the cost of the removal of the boiler.

The hot water storage tank at the high school is leaking. I need to put in another tank. It does not have to be as big as the old one. If we don't replace it, there will not be enough hot water for the kitchen or showers. The cost will be $1000.00 to re-plumb the tank. I do not have a price for a new tank yet.
