The council set the 2024 city levy at $2,350,000, which is a 4.85% increase and $108,800 higher than this year's levy.

The city's final levy tax rate is 45.35%. Last year's rate was 50%.

That will bring taxes down a little bit for residents, City Administrator Angie Duus said.

“What they saw proposed most recently — that will go down,” she said, referring to the city's preliminary property tax levy number in statements sent earlier this fall.
