Welcome to North Valley High School
--

It has been an interesting and challenging start to the 2020 school year. The changes to our world have come rapidly and often unexpectedly. Through it all your school and our students have demonstrated respect, responsibility, and above all, resilience. As we approach the winter break, I wanted to say a few words to express my gratitude for our students and staff. This year we have seen some amazing things - - things like teachers converting their entire curriculum to an online platform, things like students with limited internet access working hard to achieve academic success, things like parents supporting learning at home . . . things like our entire North Valley community coming together to help one another in this time of need. It makes me proud to see the hard work and success of our students, staff, and community.

As you are aware, we are transitioning back to comprehensive distance learning. Though it was brief, it has been truly wonderful to have had our students back on campus, and I look forward, with excitement, to the day they can return. Please encourage those around you to continue to be resilient and, in time, we will look back on the struggles of 2020 like the marathon runner that feels that sense of pride for completing and competing in the challenging race.

Have a good holiday break,

Principal Lathen

Youth Transition Program

About us...

Many young people successfully transition from adolescence to adulthood with the support of their families, friends, adults, communities and schools.

For some youth, including those with disabilities, it can be challenging and additional assistance can be helpful in finding the path to success. This is where Youth Transition Program (YTP) comes in.

YTP is a unique vocational program offered by our school district who also partners with the Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) office and the University of Oregon. YTP assists students on an IEP or 504 (ages 14-21) with disabilities addressing barriers and challenges to employment so they successfully transition from High School to Post-High School opportunities.
