Subject: Sole source status regarding Klein Educational Systems, Inc.

Dear Ms. Geiser,

This letter is in response to your request for additional information about Simlog's Personal Simulators. Simlog is the developer of the simulation software that constitutes a Personal Simulator, including the integration with Simlog's Simulation Manager database software, and the integration with all Simlog supported simulator controls. Simlog is the exclusive owner of all rights associated with said Personal Simulators.

In the State of Alaska, Klein Educational Systems is Simlog's sole educational solutions reseller. Klein Educational Systems is the sole supplier of Simlog's Personal Simulators, and any related services, to the education sector in Alaska.

Simlog is the pioneer of the unique range of simulator-based training tools called Personal Simulators that leverage the power of today's PCs, and offer a choice of USB simulator controls and cost-effective setup options.

For additional information about Simlog's unique Personal Simulators, please refer to the following page on Simlog's Web site titled "Why Choose Simlog":
